

BOOK TWO

Southern comfort and hospitality will have to wait as Alicia Averys and her cousin Daphne investigate mysteries in Savannah, Georgia - one of America's most haunted cities.

On the edge of the water, just past Bay Street, is the Riverfront Exchange. A building where people can shop, wander and allegedly dine with the deceased crew of the shipwrecked Three-Fourteen. With Alicia's mind-traveling ability, the two ladies will investigate if the rumors are true and whether the sailors are friend or foe. In the course of the investigation, they will find an unexpected guest who calls Daphne's new residence home sweet home.
